MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

SUBJECT: Schedules for Action and Decision on Army Build-up

In order to facilitate coordination and to insure that the Army understands fully your concept of the pattern for the possible build-up of forces in Europe, we have developed a series of planning schedules. These schedules are attached herewith for your information and review; we will maintain them up-to-date as checklists for action.

Inclosure 1 is a "Ready for Shipment" schedule showing the dates when specific units, "packages," and forces are to be prepared for deployment to Europe under present plans. Although other assumptions have been used in considering alternative plans, you will recognize that the planning dates in this schedule are those which you have prescribed in your discussions with me. You will note, also, that this schedule provides for deployment of two division forces beginning on 1 December 1961 and for deployment of four additional division forces beginning on 1 January 1962.

Inclosure 2 is a schedule of the dates for key decisions, showing the specific decisions required for the alert and call-up of Reserve Component units and for the deployment of forces to Europe. You will note that 25 August 1961 and 1 September 1961 are the first key dates, when decisions are required authorizing the alert of 4,396 and 24,851 Reserve Component personnel, respectively, for call-up thirty days later. Of course, the date of 25 August may be slipped as necessary based on the need for a Presidential decision.

I believe that these schedules will assist both your office and the Army in keeping abreast of key developments during the build-up, and in
